

Music Resources

Sheet Music and Notation

MusOpen

Free recordings, sheet music and textbooks without copyright.

View here

Art Song Central

Free sheet music. View here

Muscore

Great tool for creating sheet music. View here

Audacity

Another free resource this time a multi-track audio editor and recorder. View

here

Finale notepad

Software for music notation. View here

Music Theory

Classical.net

Great classical music information including further links and reviews. View

here

MusicTheory.net

exercises and lessons for music theory. View here

BBC Orchestra and Singers

BBC guide to orchestra. View here

Tonesavvy

teaching tool for music theory. View here

Naxos

This budget classical record label, has an excellent education section, which includes, among other things, an A-Z glossary of musical terms and brief composer biographies. View here

Library of Congress National Jukebox

collection of historical sound and song recordings. View here

Composer of the Week

Another BBC resource that keeps on giving. View here

Contemporary Music Centre Notes

The Centre has notes on both Raymond Deane's 'Seachanges' (view here) as well as Barry's Piano Quartet No. 1 (view here)

Traditional Music

Comhaltas Ceoltóirí Éireann –

website for traditional Irish music. View here

ITMA

Irish traditional music archive. View here

Music Teachers Association

Post-Primary Music Teachers Assoc has some great notes as well on Irish music. View here

Na Píobairí Uilleann

A huge digital media database of video clips of Irish traditional music; brief instructional videos; audio and photo archives; and the Irish Music Collections Online (IMCO), consisting of music from 24 significant historical music collections dating from as early as 1724. View here

Ceolas

Houses the largest online collection of information on Irish and Celtic music. It has links to hundreds of related sites. View here
